Compre expands its Audit and Consultancy Team

Compre Services (UK) Ltd announces the recruitment of an experienced team to enhance and expand its international Audit & Consultancy capability.

Joining Compre will be Jonathan Hughes – Audit Director, Thomas Whittingdale, Robert Langstone and David Everington all of whom have been recruited from Lambourn Insurance Services.

Commenting on the recruitment, Compre's Managing Director John Halls says "We are delighted to have Jonathan and his experienced colleagues join our Consulting Services Division. I am really looking forward to working with Jonathan, whom I have known for many years, and have no doubt that Compre's brand and reputation in the international market will be enhanced by the expertise of our expanded Audit and Consultancy team"

Jonathan Hughes says "We are thrilled to be joining Compre. They are a professional organisation with a proven track record that have demonstrated to us they are committed to developing their Audit and Consultancy services across the international market. I believe our client base will also be impressed with the level of professionalism at this firm. We are excited about the future."

Recently joining Compre Holdings was Mark Jeater who is assisting Mikko Sinko and Nick Steer in their ongoing acquisitions of run-off insurance companies and legacy portfolios. Mark has over 25 years experience working in the reinsurance market and has both financial and auditing expertise and further boosts Compre's Audit and Consultancy capability.
